SHIRLEY GERSEN

Q: How do you like being a cheerleader?

A: Supporting the team is really fun. Practicing gets kind of tiresome after awhile. It's a lot more work than I thought. Our squad gets along with each other so practices aren't that bad.

Cheerleader Sketch

Q: What do you think of the school spirit at assemblies?

A: Most of the people yell, only a few don't. As a whole it's pretty good. I could be better. We tried to start a spirit committee and it got absolutely nowhere.

Q: What made you try out for cheerleader?

A: I complained a lot about spirit last year and I wanted to do something about it. I don't want our school to go more into a hole. So far the spirit hasn't got much better.

Q: How did you enjoy the cheerleading clinic?

A: It wasn't long enough to really learn a lot. Two hours a day doesn't really give you time to practice.

Q: How does it feel to be the Mascot?

A: I can't describe it in words.

IN MEMORIAM

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kappert of Rainier, and a sister, Cindy, is a sophomore at SHSHS.

Backtalk - Student Conduct

Student conduct has struck a new low. Behavior at school assemblies and in classes has been bad enough, but now it has been displayed in public. During field trips, students are expected to conduct themselves as the young adults most of them are. But as always, there are those who haven't matured enough to be responsible for their actions.

Most of the students would like to have an open campus, but one can see why certain merchants and home owners in this area dread the idea of having these children released from their keepers.

Perhaps a solution to the field trip problem would be to have each irresponsible child handcuffed to a teacher. But this can't be because there aren't enough teachers to go around and the teachers would like to enjoy the trips too. One teacher can't be expected to take care of 20 or 30 students and chase these brats at the same time. Besides, these people must learn to be responsible for themselves. No one will be around to hold their hands and say "No No" all their lives.

A better solution would be for the students themselves to bring pressure against the few who cause the student body's rights and privileges to be taken away. It isn't right for a few to ruin the student body's reputation which is regrettably judged by the actions of these few.

Let us hope that these children grow up before they are released into an already troubled world.

CHRISTMAS CHICKEN

Santa Claws exists. Just not too long ago, I talked to him.

I was walking down the street one night, kicking the snow off my shoes, when all of a sudden, I walked right into a great sandstone building. Stepping inside I found myself in a great room of mirrors. Running around in amazement, I crash into the walls of painted glass, which broke into a million pieces and fell on top of my poor, dimmed body. I quickly reach into my watch pocket to grab my stop watch, just to be sure I'm in the right dimension. Having this out of the way, I notice that the mountain of glass I was standing in has now turned into snow. Then, suddenly, hearing the jungle of bells and the clatter of hoofs in the back of my mind, I look out and see dear old santa claws. I must say that at first sight he wasn't very pretty. But that's alright because after all, he's now about five hundred years old.

I looked at him and said, "Where am I?"

Santa said, "You can't get there from here."

"But I'm looking for the same old place."

"Oh," he said, "you must mean the old same place, sorry, I can't help you."

In spite of his obvious confusion, he gave me a present, a little black box. Shiny, soft, and semi-precious in nature, it has made all the difference in the world to me on my ordinary dreary holiday season.

PCC to televise college credit series

Portland Community College will join with Portland's KPTV (Channel 12) to televise a 15-week college credit course entitled "Man and Environment" to be offered Monday and Tuesday at 10:30 p.m. and Tuesday and Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. The series will begin January 22. In addition to the Portland metropolitan area, KPTV is carried by sixty-one cable television companies throughout Oregon and Washington, and people living in any area are eligible to enroll. In line with PCC's "open door" philosophy, there are no prerequisites; a high school diploma is not necessary to receive credit.

The first Oregon community college to offer a one-semester course on commercial television, Portland Community College will award three transfer credits in anthropology for successful completion of the course. Students will enroll by mail to PCC's Community Education Division. They will be mailed learning materials, textbooks, and examinations. A telephone "hotline" service enabling students to discuss problems with instructors will be provided.

The first half hour of each week will be a color, sound film produced by the Miami-Dade T.V. College in Miami, Florida highlighting a specific environmental problem. Topics include: "Environmental Imperatives," "Nature of Man," "Air Pollution," "Water: Supply, Demand, Pollution," "Population Dynamics," "Individual Involvement," "Urbanization," and others. The second half-hour will be a panel discussion of the pros and cons of each issue, bringing into focus specific local problems. Each panel member will be an expert in his or her field.

The mid-term and final examinations will be mailed to PCC and grades will be awarded on the basis of test performance.

Geraldine Pearson, Coordinator of Special Projects, sees the program as an excellent way for high school students to take a college course in their own living room, as a potential in-service program for teachers, and as an entertaining and informative program for people who may wish to tune-in without taking the course for credit.

KPTV's Program Manager Gordon White is an enthusiastic supporter of public service and education programs on commercial television. White says, "We have a responsibility to provide the type of programming that people in the Northwest want. We are delighted to be cooperating with PCC in this program."

For more information on "Man and the Environment" contact Geraldine Pearson at Portland Community College, 12000 S.W. 49th Avenue, Portland, Oregon 97219, 244-6111.

Club news

The following is a continuation of club news to inform students about club purposes and activities.

FTA — The purpose of FTA is to help students realize what the teaching field is all about. To carry out this purpose, the students have organized student teaching at the grade schools and junior high school. The members, under the leadership of Bill Perkins, would like to visit the School of the Blind or the School of the Deaf to see how the handicapped are trained to read and write and live a normal life. These activities are for the benefit of those in FTA who are interested in becoming teachers.

FHA — FHA tries to promote homemaking activities and extra curricular activities. So far this year members have gone to the FHA District meet, taken part in the Thanksgiving program, and have gone ice skating at the Lloyd Center. They plan to sell cookbooks, have a Christmas party, put on the King and Queen of Hearts dance and color Easter eggs for the Jaycee egg hunt. These projects are for the organization, school and community. Glorine Simpson is president.

GAA — Girls Athletic Association plans to go caroling, go to an orphanage, pick up litter, and put on a dance and a bake sale. President is Connie Anderson. The members of Spanish Club, under the leadership of Donna Waite, wish to serve both school and community as well as club members. Thus far they have planned to sponsor a dance, a bake sale, a car wash, and to make pinatas. They would like to have taco sales, a Dutch auction, carnival, see a movie, and have a Spanish dinner.

GL — The purpose of Girls League is to give all girls a chance to work together for the betterment of self, school, and community. To do this they have organized the Big Little Sister Party, Powderpuff Football and the Thanksgiving Canned Food Drive. They have planned the annual Carol Contest, Val O Grams, Papa Party, and Mothers Day Tea. As the opportunity calls they may become involved in other projects. Trudy Glasscoe is president of the club.

THE FIRST KAR KUDDLE couple are Marcy Fenk with her

1966 Ford Mustang and Jim Gortler with his 1967 Chevelle.

Kar Kuddle is a special feature for this issue of Kar Korner. For the first candidates of this special feature Marcy Fenk and Jim Gortler were chosen.

Marcy is the owner of a spiffy little 1966 red Ford Mustang. This sharp two-door hardtop has a 190 cubic inch 6 cylinder engine with a stock two-barrel carb and three speed on the floor. With these added attractions, Marcy's Mustang should be a real economical little car.

The bucket seats are a very outstanding feature in this beauty (not to mention the rest of the interior) along with the stock mag wheels that help make this one of the cutest little six bangers around.

On the other hand, Jim owns the beast. Of course, it's an attractive beast, a tan 1967 Chevelle with a black vinyl top to be exact. It, too, is a very sporty looking two-door hardtop.

It has a 327 cubic inch V-8 with a big Holly 4-barrel along with a race cam. This, combined with a four-on-the-floor tranny and a posi-trac rear-end makes a mighty snappy machine (easy to get in trouble with huh Jim? You better watch it, its more fun when you stay out of trouble, right Marcy?)

The chrome reverse wheels with baby moons and Datona 60's and 70's from Liberty Tom's shop set off the exterior while the interior is accented with bucket seats, console, tape deck with headphones, a stock tachometer and a custom woodgrain steering wheel.

Well Jim and Marcy, good luck with your beautiful little cars and lets try to keep the tickets and trouble from coming in.

FHA members skate at Lloyd Center

Ten members of FHA went to the Lloyd Center to go ice skating on Sat. Dec. 2.

This is the third year that the club has gone ice skating at the Lloyd Center. The outing was started to get old and new members acquainted.

Those who went were Marie Warneke, Kathy Houghtelling, Kathy Cooper, Diana Snyder, Lori Hudson, Renee Lolande, Carolyn Hanson, Carol Stermer, Pam Chatterton, and Glorine Simpson, president of the club.

The girls left the school at 12:30 and returned at 5 p.m. Transportation was provided by Mrs. Helen Simpson, Mrs. Kathie Paulson, and Miss Judy Sherlock.

Usually, along with ice skating the girls go shopping, but there were so many people at the Center this year, that the girls didn't get a chance. It took too long to pay for items.

LEN MASON (No. 40) goes up for a lay-in over a Forest Grove defender

Lions place third

The St. Helens Lions basketball team went into the Forest Grove Jamboree looking for tough competition and found just what they were looking for, as they placed third out of four teams. Coming in first were the Astoria Fishermen. Second were the Newberg Tigers, then the Lions with Forest Grove Vikings trailing last. Newberg, the favorites were edged by the Fishermen in a tight game 14 to 13, with Astoria coming out on top.

In the first game of the evening the crowd saw Astoria edge out Forest Grove in a tight battle with the score 14-12. High point man for the Fishermen was Larson and Olson was high for the Vikings.

The Lions first game ended in an over-whelming score as Newberg rolled over St. Helens 26-10, as the Lions failed to score in the first two minutes. High scorer for Newberg was 6-7" Tony Wilder with 12 and Kneeland with 4 led St. Helens honors.

In the third game the Lions tried to come back but failed as Astoria nipped St. Helens by a score of 15-11. It was nip and tuck all the way, until the Lions took the lead with 3:49 to go, but another scoreless minute was costly to the Lions as the Fishermen pulled away. Leading scorers in the game was Kneeland, this time with 3, as Hamilton, Jones, Mason and The next game was held between Newberg and Forest Grove with the Tigers winning hardily by a score of 19-12.

In the fifth game it was the battle for top honors, and Astoria edging Newberg by a score of 14-13. Mostly defense was the name of the game but a costly technical foul from Newberg provided enough edge for the Fishermen to pull it out.

The final game of the evening proved to be a battle to see who would end up in last place with the battle between St. Helens and Forest Grove. The Lions showing their will not to give up pulled through and ran past the Vikings by a score of 14-6. The Lions scored early in the game unlike in the previous games and pulled out to an eight to four lead half-way through the game. Doherty and Mason shared the scoring lead with four, while Barrick had three.
